NOTICED A CHANGE IN YOUR PEE?

SPEAK TO YOUR GP!

For about 6 months before I actually urinated blood, I saw a change in my urine. It seemed to be sitting heavier in the toilet bowl. Little pinker sometimes. I ignored it. Said to myself “Getting old, ate asparagus, too much beetroot, you’re seeing things, forget about it” But then I urinated blood, and was diagnosed with advanced bladder cancer.

If I had known the early warning signs of bladder cancer, I might still have my Bladder. If you see any change in your urine, please speak to your Doctor immediately. It may save your Bladder and your life.
